[BACKSTORY]: ☆

“In the Odyssey,none of the crewmates were meant to make it out alive,but God did Odysseus try ”

Doren Odysseus’s Diary

There was a library in town,keyword: was.A blonde child stood close by,horror etched onto their face,watching the library burn.A book sat under their arm titled Post-Vulgate Cycle.A rewriting of the story Lancelot-Grail with more emphasis on the Quest for the Holy Grail. This copy,the only one of its kind,was written entirely by hand and was offered to them by the librarian to keep.Their lips quivered as a pair of 2 hands were set upon their shoulders. Red-orange stained their coat as crescent eyes gazed down at them.

“I saved you,what can you give to me in exchange?”
Doren looked down,eyes shimmering with tears “ I don’t know,I didn’t ask you to do that.”
“Then I shall take your bodily autonomy anytime I wish-”
“Can I counter your deal?”
Le Fay pauses,a smile stretches across her face “ Of Course,I understand,my price was quite steep and you did not ask for this.
“Then..anytime you’re behind the wheel of my brain,let me call shotgun,okay? I’ll give you the directions to the way home.”
“Then that it shall be,it is a deal.”

Though fine at first,it proved to make a divide between them and anyone else. They were a ghost in the hallways and streets,no one looked at them.Until someone did.A green eyed transfer student too,did slink through the halls,meeting them in the eyes.He tilted his head and stuck out a hand,
“We’re friends now! Shake on it?”
And as they did,a string wrapped around both their pinkies,invisible to the ordinary.Blue eyes followed the thread and caught the other’s gaze,one of poorly concealed excitement.
“We were meant to be.”
Valddez was his name.
